Core fields of our work

OUR CORE FIELDS OF WORK ARE

- Bio-dynamic agriculture including the breeding and production of seeds, the making of fertile soils, protection of forest and reforestation, research, development and application in the realms of life technologies, health and nutrition. The only certified bio-dynamic advisor of the Philippines is part of our team.
- The founding and support of holistic schools, particularly Waldorf Schools, as well as support in the application of holistic and experience-based aspects in existing schools and educational efforts. The first school doctor of the first Philippine Waldorf School is part of our team
- The work is complemented with educational and training programs in all possible areas of holistic and sustainable development, with a special emphasis on aiding the poor. The only eurythmist of the country is part of our team

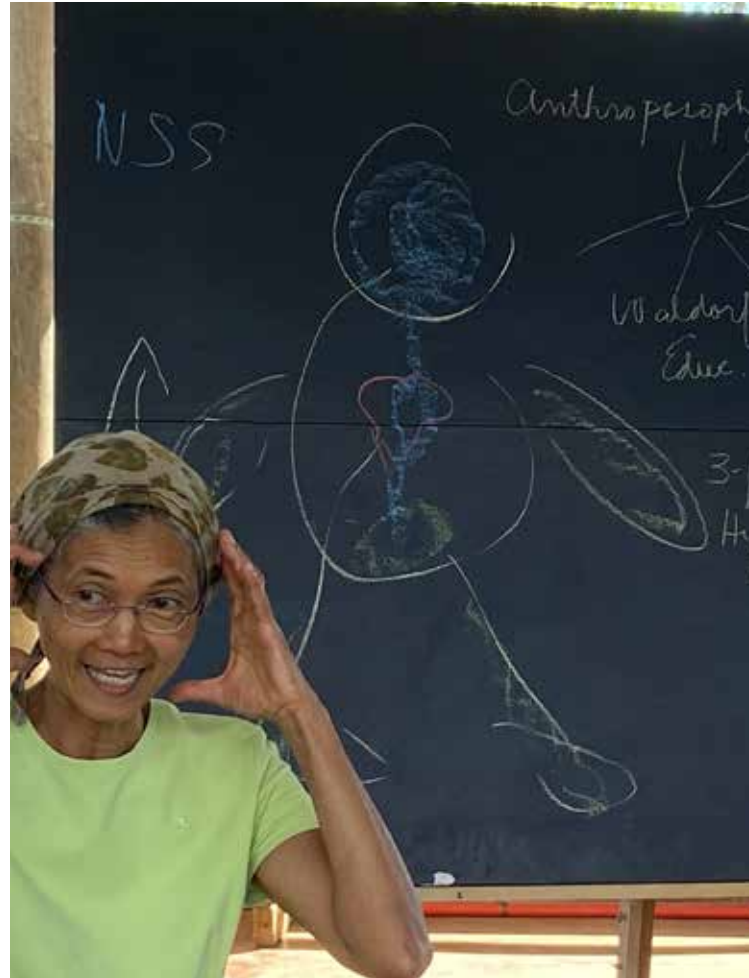

Through our bio-dynamic projects, we are able to support more farmers to plant trees.

THE CORPORATION HIGHLIGHTS

the responsibility of the individual human being and helps to “awaken the will” in as many people as possible. Special emphasis is given to the the five “means of production”:

- Free and available Seeds
- Knowledge, Know How and Faculties in Regenerational Arts.
- Energy from own Resources
- Fertilizers from own Soil
- Locally and globally rooted Capital

THE LOGO OF THE CORPORATION

conveys the understanding that 1. the human being is rooted both in matter and in spirit, 2. men and women can be the connectors between Earth and Cosmos, 3. that Creation today to a large extent depends on women and men to bring it forward.

The depicted garland (lemniscate) is given to visitors and it shows our understanding of service towards man and earth. It describes the human as a three-fold living being with the heart at the crossing. The heart connects heaven and earth, spirit and matter.

Our work is based on the consciousness of the ongoing presence of the spiritual world and an attempt at a continuous stream and exchange between spiritual and material world. We strongly believe that the peaceful cooperation of humans with all forms of life and spirit, with the goal of supporting each other, is the highest form of art. Every human being is an artist.
